Olivia: Woodcarving is an old art the carversmen have been doing for hundreds of years. A well-made product requires skill and mastery. These products can be passed down from generation to generation.

Innovation doesn't always have to be about making new things. I'm an innovator who does an old art in a new time and place.

Some people may doubt you, but that's no reason to give up. Believe in yourself, and there will be others who accept you.

Your ideas don't have to fit the traditional mould, and neither do you.

I'm Olivia O'Connor, and this is what I do.
